By Appointment.

Eccleston Ferry is situated about three to four miles from Chester across the River Dee. The privilege of providing the ferry boat and of receiving the tolls is held by the Grosvenor family, being the only right claimed by them in virtue of the "Sergeantry of the Dee," a grant made originally to Robert de Eton, the range covered by the charter being from Eton Weir to Arnoldsheye, a rock opposite Chester Castle.

Printed in England.
